Paper Sculptures

MATERIALS

- Square sheets of paper (if you have colored paper, you can make it in bright colors like the Leeper installation)

DID YOU KNOW?

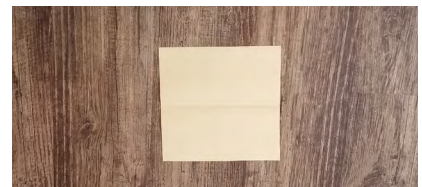

Not only was Doris Leeper an accomplished artist, she was an environmentalist too! That means she worked to protect and preserve the earth.

In 1975, the Hunter Museum commissioned artist Doris Leeper to create the Modular Wall Relief in Eight Colors, a geometric installation made of 160 individual pieces. Using sheets of paper and the instructions below, create geometric paper sculptures you can arrange into your own modular creation inspired by Leeper's work. Watch a video tutorial here.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Fold the paper square in half horizontally.

2. Unfold the paper.

3. Fold the paper in half vertically.

4. Unfold the paper.

5. Fold two of the corners toward the center.

6. Fold the other two corners toward the center.

7. Unfold one corner.

8. Flip the paper over.

9. While raising the center, fold the open corner in half.

10. Continue pushing up the center until you create a three-sided pyramid.

11. Tuck the overhanging corner under your pyramid.

12. Repeat steps 1 – 11 and arrange your pyramids into modular relief sculptures.
